Valley add Roswell. There are several in the party who are relatives of prominent Roswell citizens, but they do not want their names given out until they return, as a pleasant surprise has been planned. The Roswell real estate agents will now have an opportunity to show the advantages, progress and prospects of Roswell and the Pecos Valley.

Help the Fire Department.

The piano recently secured by the Fire Department, is to be awarded to the party holding the lucky number on Friday, Oct. 30th. It is now on exhibition at Ullery & Co.'s furniture store.

Three hundred [300] have been printed and will be sold for a dollar each. Each person holding a ticket must deposit it in the box at Ullery & Co.'s prior to the 30th instant and at the same time see that their name and number are properly registered.

On the evening of the 30th of October a committee will see that the tickets are thoroughly mixed and a child will be blindfolded and draw the lucky number from the box.

The money derived from this sale will be applied in the purchase price of a span of horses, soon to be purchased and stationed at the fire house.

A chance on the big doll with every 25 cent cash purchase.—Jaffa, Calfee & Co.

Jasper M. Bates Dead.

News of the death of Jasper M. Bates on Tuesday of last week at Puerto, near Tucumcari, New Mexico, has reached Amarillo. Mr. Bates has been for several years a citizen of Amarillo and his many friends here are sad at the news of his death. He had recently moved to Puerto to live with his sons, M. W. and R. M. Bates. Four sons, three in New Mexico and one in Wyoming, mourn his loss.

Jasper M. Bates was born December 9, 1829, in Spring Place, Murray county, Georgia, where he lived with his parents until he was of mature age. Besides himself, there were five girls and four boys in the family. His early days were spent on his father's farm except those that were spent at school in Atlanta. February 1, 1861, he was passed and raised to the degree of a Master Mason in Cohutta Lodge No. 145, Spring Place.

The outbreak of the civil war found him ready to answer the call of his state and at the beginning he enlisted with the First Georgia Regulars, company C, under Captain John D. Walker. He afterwards served under Captains Gant and Twigs. At the first battle of Manassa he received four bullet wounds, from which he carried two ounces of lead in his body ever afterwards.

At the close of the war he returned home and was married, in July, 1865, to Mrs. Rebecca Johnson. After residing at Spring Place for several years he removed to Fort Smith, Ark., and engaged in the milling business and became practically disabled for the rest of his life from injuries received by being caught in the saws of his gin in 1873.

In 1875 he moved west into Texas to Comanche county, at a time when it was thinly settled and almost a wilderness. Here his wife died in 1882, leaving him with the care of four boys, the oldest 15 years and the youngest only three years of age. For many years he lived
